

Alison Kellett is Head of Group Dispute Resolution (GDR) for the UK, Channel Islands, and Nordic Countries at BNP Paribas, encompassing both Legal Investigations and Litigation and Legal Financial Security. The Bank has a presence in 73 countries with more than 198,000 employees. In her wide ranging role, Alison covers all aspects of the Group's activities including supporting the Bank's global hub of its corporate and institutional banking business based in London. Alison joined BNPP just prior to the collapse of Lehman Brothers and so has had active involvement in all aspects of the fall-out from the financial crisis and the regulatory investigations and ensuing class actions which have affected the financial services industry over that time, including LIBOR, EURIBOR, CDS and FX. Alison sits on the Bank's GDR Management Committee.

Prior to joining BNPP in 2009, Alison worked for 10 years at Clifford Chance, in the Litigation and Dispute Resolution Practice. During that time she was an integral member of the team on the leading English mis-selling case of Springwell Navigation Corporation –v- JP Morgan Chase.

Before entering the legal profession, Alison worked as a Clinical Research Associate in the pharmaceutical industry. Alison is also a Solicitor Member of the Solicitors' Disciplinary Tribunal for the UK and Deputy Chair of Governors for a prep school in Surrey.
